When the Nisei soldiers of the 522nd Field Artillery Battalion, part of the famed 100th/442nd Regimental Combat Team, came upon Dachau on Sunday, April 29, 1945, they were shocked to see the emaciated prisoners of the camp.

Among the members of 522nd FA Battalion were Mamoru Araki, Joseph Ichiuji of Salinas, Ed Ichiyama of Honolulu, Sus Ito of Stockton, Tom Kono of Kauai, Lawrence Mori of La Puente, Manabi Hirasaki of Gilroy, Ichiro Sugidono of Watsonville, Minoru Tsubota, Virgil Westdale (a hapa), George Oiye of Basin Creek, Montana, and Katsugo Miho.

Katsugo Miho said of his experience:

"From Dachau to where we ended up the war, further down south of Munich, there were eight or nine other sub-camps. Thousands of these inmates were on the road, starving, dying, you know. This was our experience just at the end of the war (eight days later, on May 7th, 1945, the war ended in Europe).

"We kept quiet because the word was, we should have violated orders in opening the gates, as we understand it. So those who opened the gates were under order to keep their mouth shut. Most of us who only saw the freed Jewish inmates didn’t know about the opening of the gates.

"What we saw, we saw these decimate zombies walking the streets and dying on the streets. This was our experience with Dachau for the majority of the artillery boys. But we’ve had various testimonies from different individuals. One significant one is that he was in Dachau, definitely in Dachau, and was rescued by soldiers, Oriental-looking faces."

George Oiye recalled, “My first experience seeing the inmates of Dachau were lumps in the snow.”

We are grateful to Mr. Oiye for the photos he took of Dachau (see below), which are housed at the JANM in LA and the Montana Historical Museum.

Many of the Nisei soldiers who opened the Dachau concentration camp had families in concentration camps back home in the United States!

In 2013, our (Hashimotos) tour guide stated that the 522nd FA Bn did not receive proper recognition for opening the gates of Dachau but two other units claimed credit.

Buchenwald concentration camp was liberated 18 days earlier on April 11, 1945 by African American soldiers of the 671st Tank Battalion.
A brief history of Dachau:

Adolf Hitler was appointed Chancellor of the Weimar Republic by President Paul von Hindenburg on January 30, 1933. Hitler, on March 23, 1933, forced the passage of the Enabling Act, to rule without the Reichstag (Parliament), to become the Fuerher. Dachau opened a week later on March 30, 1933.

Dachau was the first and oldest concentration camp established by the Nazi. It held political opponents—German Communists and Social Democrats—and later gypsies, homosexuals, criminals, religious minorities (Jehovah Witnesses, Jews) and others. It was designed to hold 8,000 to 10,000 inmates. After the annexation of Austria and Czechoslovakia in 1937, there were 13,260 prisoners. The SS, using prisoners as forced laborers, constructed large complex of buildings with the slogan, ARBEIT MACHT FREI — “work makes (you) free.”

Prisoners from Poland arrived in 1940, from Balkan countries in 1941, from Russia in 1942, and from France and western Europe after. By the war’s end there were over 31,000 inmates. At the height, it held an estimated 60,000 prisoners, including those in the sub-camps.

Dachau served as a training center for the SS camp guards and a “model” for the other camps. It was divided into two sections—the camp of 32 barracks and the crematoria. Later, sub-camps were established around the Bavarian city of Munich.

The German doctors performed gruesome medical experiments—high altitude and hypothermia—as well as experiments using malaria and tuberculosis and the testing of new medications on the prisoners.

During the last months of the war, the Germans moved prisoners from the battle front areas to Dachau. After days of forced travel with little or no food or water, they arrived weak and exhausted. Typhus as well as overcrowding, lack of sanitation, and insufficient provisions, weakened the prisoners. Many died along the road where they were covered with snow.

The number of Dachau prisoners between 1933 to 1945 exceeded 188,000. How many died in Dachau? How many were murdered? The numbers are difficult to determine as records were destroyed before the arrival of the Allied forces.

During the Holocaust, the Nazi killed over 11 million, of which nearly 6 million were Jews (72% of the total Jewish population in Europe).

From the Library of Judge Evan Wallach
OSS Section: Seventh Army. Excerpts from the SUMMARY:

The only objective of the inmates was to survive under the most primitive and cruel conditions which constantly threatened their sanity and physical existence. As a result, this camp of 30,000 men cannot be compared to the structure of any normal society differentiated by social classes, political, religious, or professional affiliations.

The inmates did not act as members of their former social class or as representatives of political or religious groups—as bankers, workers, priests, Communists, intellectuals, artists, et al—but only as human beings in a struggle for survival against starvation and mass murders. Living under these abnormal conditions, the inmates, especially those who had gained a position of some power and security, were frequently degraded and degenerated to a criminal level, copying the methods and practices of the SS for their own protection and benefit (survival).

Because so many of the administrate positions were held by German prisoners (and not the SS), a rather strong anti-German sentiment developed among the non-German inmates.

There was no underground organization or political activity. Even expressions of mutual help and solidarity among members of the same national group never transcended the level of personal relations between people bound by friendships, common background, and language. They never took the form of organized action.

ARE WE THERE, YET?
Mas Hashimoto, Editor

Restless children often ask from the back seat of the car while traveling to a special destination, “Are we there, yet?”

Without a reliable map or GPS, one can lose one’s way.

When it comes to civil and human rights and simple courtesy, we have asked, “Are we there, yet?”

Once, the motto and goal of the USA was E Pluribus Unum—“out of many, one.” To too many it really meant, “out of many—only mine (WASP) counts.” Everyone, especially immigrants, was expected to adopt the culture of “WASP” as their goal. Hollywood actors regularly Angloized their names. You weren’t really an American if you weren’t “WASP.” “WASP”—White (of the white race), Anglo (an old term for English), Saxon (a German state—Queen Elizabeth II’s ancestry is of Hanover, Germany), and Protestant (once handpainted signs read, “Irish Need Not Apply, (many of whom were Catholics).

During and after WW II, new signs read, “No Japs Allowed.” As a 10 year-old, recently released from Poston, I read those signs in the stores and shops along Main Street in Watsonville in 1945.

E Pluribus Unum is no longer our motto since it was changed in 1956 to “In God We Trust.” Check your depreciating currency. Earlier, at the time of fighting “godless” Communism in Korea, “under God” was added to the Pledge of Allegiance, to the dismay of its author and purists. [The JACL has been opposed to the addition of the two words.] The Korean War, since June of 1950, is on going. We have only an armistice (cease fire), not a peace treaty. It is one of America’s longer wars. America’s longest war has been against the native Americans, since 1607.

“Are we there, yet?”

When a man and a woman go to work in Texas, a woman will take home just 82% of what a man makes. And if you’re an African American woman, that number is just 59%. Hispanic? 45%. Yes, you read that correctly -- Hispanic women in Texas take home less than half of what men do for equal work.

You would believe that supporting equal pay would be a no brainer. The Texas Equal Pay Act, which Wendy Davis authored, would level the playing field and work to ensure that women take home the same paychecks as men when they do equal work, but Republican Attorney General Greg Abbott is firmly against it.

“Are we there, yet?”

Hate crime at San Jose State University (SJSU): Donald Williams, Jr—a graduate of Santa Cruz High School and the son of Donald Williams, artistic director of University of California at Santa Cruz (UCSC) and founder of Rainbow Theater and our friend who directed us in our reenactment, “Liberty Lost … Lessons in Loyalty”—is the victim of horrific bullying by four white students who share the same SJSU dormitory room. The students are from the California towns of Bakersfield, Clovis, and Woodacre (a fourth student’s name and hometown was not identified as he is a minor). The roommates called Williams “Three-fifths” (referring to the US Constitution where black slaves were considered 3/5s of a white person for representation in the House of Representatives). When Williams protested, he was called “Fraction.” The students hung a Confederate flag in the window of their dormitory room, barricaded him in his room, wrote the “N” word on a dry-erase board in the living room, wrestled him to the ground and fastened a bicycle lock around his neck!! This harassment went on for over a month, even after Williams’ parents reported their suspicions of racial bullying to SJSU’s administration.

The students have only been suspended and have pleaded not guilty to misdemeanors hate-crime and battery charges, downplaying their actions as pranks.

A $5 million lawsuit against SJSU has been filed by Williams. An internal investigation and creation of a “task force” recommending changes in SJSU’s response to racial discrimination and hate crimes are also underway.

The W-SC JACL has extended support to the Williams family, and they have expressed appreciation for our concern and outreach. We urge Congressional representatives Sam Farr, representing citizens of Santa Cruz County, and Mike Honda, whose district SJSU lies to speak up against bullying and hate crimes.

When will we ever move forward in recognizing that there is only one race—the human race?

“Are we there, yet?”

NATIONAL JACL CONVENTION IN SAN JOSE
“Do you know the way to San Jose?”
By Gordon Koo and Pam Yoshida

The San Jose JACL welcomes you to celebrate the theme of “We Are America” at the 2014 National JACL convention! It will be four full days of charting the course of JACL while enjoying great weather and amenities of the 10th largest city in the nation and surrounding cities!
While the convention dates are officially July 9-12, 2014, San Jose has so much to offer that we are happy to have you come early or leave later to enjoy our city!

San Jose is a place of change: once a capital of California to the 'Valley of Hearts' Delight,' which paid homage to the agricultural industry, San Jose has earned it's nickname of 'Capital of Silicon Valley' - the major city in the high tech industry. The 1940 census reported San Jose's population as 98% white American, and it is now a city with pride in diversity. It is home to San Jose Japantown (one of the last three historic Japantowns in the United States), San Jose Taiko (the second taiko group in America), the Japanese American Museum of San Jose, and the San Jose JACL (established in 1923 as the American Loyalty League) located in the landmark Japanese Hospital building. Convention delegates will get their first welcome to San Jose when they fly into the Norman Y. Mineta San Jose International airport. In 1971, Norman Mineta was the first Asian American mayor of a major American city.

The Convention will climax with the San Jose Obon on July 12 and 13. This is a two-day obon festival with the traditional Obon odori (dance) on both days. Conventioners are invited to extend their visit to fully experience this event. San Jose is proud to host nearly 1200 dancers at their Obon with collegiate taiko performances in the afternoon prior to the festival, along with food and game booths for all ages.

This year's theme of the 2014 JACL Convention is "We Are America" and is a reflection of the diversity within the Asian American Pacific Islander (AAPI) community and the important role we play in our nation's socio-economic future. For far too long, AAPI's and other people of color have struggled to gain acceptance as Americans. The 2014 JACL National Convention will focus on raising awareness about diversity and inclusion of communities of color as an integral part of the fabric of American society.

The 2014 National JACL Convention chairperson is Wayne Tanda, and it will be held at the DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel conveniently situated minutes from the Norman Y. Mineta San Jose International Airport and several mass transit transportation services including the Valley Transit Authority (VTA) Light Rail System and Bus services. Visiting other parts of the Bay Area? The Cal Train Commuter Train service and Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART) are also available and connected to several of the VTA bus lines.

San Jose hosts numerous entertainment venues including the Winchester Mystery House, sports teams such as the San Jose Sharks Hockey, San Jose Giants Baseball and several museums: the Children's Discovery Museum, the Tech Museum of Innovation, the Rosicrucian Egyptian Museum as well as California's Great America amusement park for a full day of family entertainment. San Jose has a great variety of shopping: unique, with a European-inspired neighborhood environment, Santana Row houses over 70 shops and boutiques. Across the street from Santana Row is Westfield Valley Fair which showcases 230 shops and restaurants. To the south are the Gilroy Premium Outlets.

Please join us for the 2014 National JACL convention in San Jose! For more information go to http://www.jacl.org/2014 for registration and updated event information.

TOM GRAVES’ “TWICE HEROES” PRESENTED

Tom Graves’ book, “Twice Heroes,” along with NJAHS of SF’s DVD on Sen. Inouye and Gov. Ralph Carr, is presented to Ann Sobrato High School of Morgan Hill. Accepting them on behalf of the school’s library are social studies teachers Andrea Murphy Kusanovich and her mother, Tracy Murphy. Photo by Natalie Kimura.

Tom Graves’ book was also presented to the library of Harbor High in Santa Cruz where Mas spoke to the US History classes of Teresa Gaims and Taylor Boyce.

Thanks to your generous donations to our Day of Remembrance Education Fund, we are able to present this wonderful book to teachers and libraries and to give each student a replica of the “1942 name tag” that those incarcerated were forced to wear. Mas is wearing a “name tag” in the above photo.

SENIOR CENTER NEWS by Kitako Izumizaki

The month of March started off with a surprise birthday lunch given by the children of Haru Ishibashi in honor of her 88th birthday. Table flowers were potted spring flowers with paper cones saying, “Happy Birthday, Haru!” Harold Sakoda, Haru’s eldest son, introduced the Sakoda family of 6 and one grandchild. Each member participated in either decorating or baking or making the favors for the party. Everyone had a wonderful time and enjoyed the delicious lunch. We thank the Sakoda family for the special treat. Please see the photos in the Seniors’ Corner.

WATSONVILLE BUDDHIST TEMPLE NEWS
by Jackie Yamashita

Thank you everyone for making our YBA's Pancake Feed on March 23rd such a wonderful success! We hope you enjoyed it as much as we had fixing, cooking, serving and bussing tables. This tradition dates back over 56 years when YBAers were fund-raising for the upcoming WYBL Conferences to be held in either San Francisco, San Jose, Sacramento, Fresno, or Los Angeles!

Thank you for supporting our 'Pancake Feed.' Front row: Bruce Arao, Kelsey Kusumoto, Sarah Nagamine, Alex Tao, Kelly Maemura, Julian Nakanishi-Rodriguez.

The cooking crew consisted of the parents of the YBA members: Chef John Maemura (front, with pancakes) and left to right, Kim Yamaoka, Phyllis Nakano, Laurel Nakanishi, Glenn Nagamine, and Dean Sakae. We appreciate our great parental support!

Friends at the “Pancake Feed” get together to catch up on the news! Hal and Dottie Hyde met with Susan and Dennis Ikegami. Patrons remarked that the food was both delicious and quickly and cordially served by YBA members. What a great way to start the week!
Sunday, April 6th will be the busiest spring day for we will celebrate Hanamatsuri, the birth of Siddhartha Gautama, with a fun exhibit/food bazaar, and Shotsuki Hoyo Service, too. All are welcome.

Children assisted by placing flowers on the Hanamido.

YBA Update

Our ski trip in February went well. Six members and their parents attended. Big thanks to the Yamaokas for letting us use their condos.

We had our first Temple visit by our Coast District YBL members. Thanks to our Danny Souza (CD religious chairperson), we will have more Temple visits prior to our monthly CD meetings. We'll be visiting the Mt. View Buddhist Temple in April.

Nine members and three chaperones will be attending this year's Bay District Jr YBA conference on March 29th. It will be held at SACBC (Union City, CA).

Together with Dharma School, we'll be selling baked goods and drinks at this year's Hanamatsuri Bazaar.

Kokoro no Gakko

We will sell our famous cabbage salad at Hanamatsuri and will try to have a small display. Kai Gavin will go to Japan this spring with the Kawakami Watsonville Sister City group. If you know anyone wishing to attend Gakko this year (June 23 to July 3), please ask for an application.

Board Notes:

Temple Termites: The parsonage with the BBQ pits will be tented, if the cherry tree dies, (it is diseased now, it has termites) we will plant a new one. The Temple building from the Hondo to the Gym will be tented, the bell tower will be tented and the storage room will be tented from Monday, April 14 to Thursday, April 17. No access at all. Sensei will be on vacation. Mighty Mite Company will do the job.

Hanamatsuri Bazaar: The Temple board, not ABA, will take on the responsibilities of chicken teriyaki—ordering, making the marinade, cleaning, cooking, boxing and selling the chicken. Chicken cleaning will be at 5:30 pm on Thursday, April 3rd. Gym set up and yard cleaning will be on Sunday, March 30th from 8 am.

As for this year's Entertainment & Demonstrations we have: Aikido of Santa Cruz, Santa Cruz Ukulele performances, Watsonville Taiko and possibly ikebana demonstrations. Judy Nagamine offered to have hands on learning and craft table and asked if she can have a donation box at her table and the proceeds will be sent to Reverend Hanayama's brother-in-law who donates it to a school for books. We appreciate all the help from the organizations, members, and non-member volunteers in order to make this year's Hanamatsuri a success. And, we will have the usual raffle of prizes.

Remember the date—Sunday, April 6th from 11 am to 2 pm. The combined Hanamatsuri and Shotsuki Hoyo service is at 10 am. Come join the celebration!

Asian Law Caucus Reports
by Winnie Kao, Litigation Director, Asian Law Caucus (ALC)

In January 2014, the California Senate passed SCA 5, a Senate Constitutional Amendment introduced by Senator Ed Hernandez that seeks to repeal Proposition 209 as it applies to public higher education. Proposition 209 is a ballot initiative passed in 1996, which has been applied to bar the consideration of race or sex in education, employment, and government contracting. The initiative passed despite the vote of the majority of African Americans, Latinos, and Asian Americans against it.

We at Asian Americans Advancing Justice - Asian Law Caucus support the full repeal of Prop 209. Affirmative action, diversity and anti-discrimination programs in higher education and other sectors of public life have been critical to securing equal opportunities for racial minorities and women, and have been crucial to building a more just and equitable society. Prop 209's ban on such constitutionally permissible programs has been a huge step backwards for all Californians.

Without such programs, we have seen the resegregation of public higher education in California. Prop 209 has relegated many African American, Latino, Pacific Islander and other Asian American students, including Filipinos and Southeast Asians, to campuses with fewer resources and opportunities or out of higher education entirely. Minority students, including many East Asians who are left on the flagship campuses have faced increased bigotry and hostility of all kinds.

We still need affirmative action. The reality is that race continues to unfairly limit educational opportunities for all students of color. Our K-12 schools are more separate and unequal today than they were 40 years ago. Cold numerical indicators like grade point averages and standardized test scores capture and magnify those inequalities and cannot be fairly evaluated without considering the real-life impact of race and racism. Nor are standardized test scores accurate predictors of academic success. Our full life experience, including race, is also part of what we bring to the table.

The Supreme Court has ruled that race-conscious admissions programs that undertake a flexible, individualized review of applicants where race is just one of many factors is consistent with the 14th Amendment. Race-conscious programs should not be conflated with racial quotas or other unacceptable, unlawful forms of discrimination.

The United States Supreme Court is currently considering a case called Schuette v. BARMN, which has challenged the constitutionality of a Prop 209 copycat proposition in Michigan. Advancing Justice - ALC is co-counsel to one of the plaintiff groups in the case. The Court's ruling is expected by the end of this term and may affect the validity of Prop 209 here in California. As such, any action to impinge affirmative action in California should be measured in light of the impending decision.

No matter what the Court's ruling is, we are committed to supporting affirmative action. We strongly support the spirit of SCA 5 and its stated goal of repealing Prop 209 in the context of education. In the coming weeks and months, we look forward to working with other civil rights groups to restore affirmative action in California. We also support efforts like those of our affiliate Asian Americans Advancing Justice - Los Angeles, which is working with legislators and advocates to address the broader issue of expanding educational opportunities for all Californians.

On Account of Race ...

The very first ordered (evicted from their homes) on Monday, March 30, 1942 were those Japanese and Japanese Americans of Bainbridge Island, Washington. Among the families were the Kee Kitayama family.

Those of Watsonville were ordered (Civilian Exclusion Order No. 16) to leave on Monday, April 27, 1942 from the Veterans Memorial Building on East Third Street (now, East Beach Street). We were sent to the Salinas Assembly Center, Salinas Rodeo Grounds.
